I know you're out there! Companies, organizations and brands who are making the world better for us all, one product at a time!

That's what I mean by spreading the light.
It's a powerful message.

My Mission...

- To use social media to make alternative, holistic and vibrational wellness practices easy to understand and learn about
- To connect moms and families with truthful health information and facts which are as up to date as possible
- To share information which will help us all evolve and grow

My Promise...

- To be as factual as possible to my audience
- To honor everybody's process
- To inform, support and encourage learners
